Additional Information

More Information	NOTES on our SIDE SHELF for displaying literature The Sideshelf is an ideal accessory for InfoCurve poster display units. It is also used to create our InfoRack literature display stands. In the InfoCurve application when used with the largest A1 size frame, two Sideshelf units (one each side) is an ideal combination. These can be installed to fit the same way round or one can face forwards and the other backwards - i.e for people to take leaflets from both sides. For the two smaller sizes of InfoCurve frames (A2 and 500x700mm) there is space for two, three or four literature shelves. These can be aligned level on each side or staggered. They can also face either way - front or back facing. This represents a very versatile solution to combining literature shelves with a poster display unit. The support arms have to be threaded onto the upright pole before the top and bottom are closed off: • With an InfoColumn the literature shelves can be retrofitted quite easily by removing the top plastic cap. • With an InfoCurve unit it is preferable to fit the literature shelves during initial assembly of the poster display unit. Alternatively by removing the base access can be gained to the channel to introduce the side shelf attachement device.
