More Information	See also Presenta ECO – a lower cost version of this product. More Details about Presenta Deco and suitable applications Adjustable from portrait to landscape at the turn of a knob these angled menu board floor sign stands look great anywhere. Snap frames have chrome plated rounded corners for styling and safety. Snap frames are opened by lifting all four borders. This gives access to the plastic cover sheet behind which you place your printed sign. Presenta Deco menu boards are primarily designed for indoor use as the frame will not keep paper signs dry on rainy days or protect against condensation. However, they are used at outdoor events, boat show, menu displays on the pavement etc. where they can be brought under cover when required. Another option is to print the sign on synthetic waterproof paper or film using a laser printer. If you prefer to laminate your sign it needs to be trimmed back to dead A4 or A3 size – or use a different angled floor stand designed to accept laminated prints. Part of a family of menu board floor stands If you do not want an angled menu board click here for upright menu boards. ECO model The economy ECO version is very similar to the original Deco model. The leg on the Eco sign stand is shorter and the base on the A3 Eco model is smaller – same size base for A3 and A4 versions. This makes the Deco version a superior choice if extra height and weight are considered desirable. The picture below shows the A3 size Presenta Deco and Presenta Eco models side by side.
