Description

Hook and Loop tree tie on a 10m roll

In the shrub and tree plant area tree ties with straps and buckles can make life difficult for customers to choose which shrub they want.

Inevitably tree ties get left unsecured and the young shrubs fall over, velcro tree ties solve this problem. The durable double-sided hook and loop is easy to install on tree retail display units, simply cut to the desired length with scissors and screw to the unit making a loop that customers are far more likely to put back. 30mm wide tape means the shrub is held securely in the unit and will not blow open in the wind.

We now stock black tree tie as the green is considerably more expensive, for larger quantities we can have green made to order but you'll need to contact us for pricing.
