More Information

Choosing the right display stand

Sign-holders have a variety of different sign display stands each one has subtly different characteristics.

The Presenta Deco range of display stands is the premium sign stand designed to look good from all angles. Safety is of paramount consideration as these stands are often placed right next to where the public is going to pass by – this premium Opti frame brand of poster holders has no sharp edges or nasty pointed corners – really useful as these two stands are about the same height as a young child.

If you're looking for an information sign holder, be it a 'Queue here' sign or a menu where people wait to be seated, the Presenta Deco's quality shows through. Made from tough durable aluminium and premium thick plastics, these stands are most resistant to cracking and snapping.

If you like this A4 or A3 sign stand but would prefer a Silver finish click here.

The Presenta Eco range of display stands offer a little more economy – looking straight on you hardly notice the difference but when viewed from all sides the cost savings can be seen. Functional brackets with bolts and a lighter grade of aluminium and plastics make them slightly less durable. In positions where the Eco sign stands will not be viewed from the rear, you can save yourself a few pounds and still have a great little sign stand.

These stands are available in Gloss Black or Silver finishes click on the links to view the products.

The Presenta Curved range: if you want a great quality sign stand that looks a little different this black menu stand is for you. With A4 and A3 paper size options you can have any colour as long as it's black! Click here to view.

The Adjustable Upright range: if you want to have two different signs either back-to-back or stacked one above the other, with these menu stands you can even add a leaflet dispenser or two. Click here to view.

All of the Sign-holder's menu stands and sign stands are produced with dual-orientation poster frames.
