Desk divider clamps secure perspex screens without tools

Desk divider clamps make it easy to fix social distancing screens across a table. These midway fixings clamp onto the edge of a desk or table and suit acrylic or other rigid panels pre-cut to match the width of the table top. The kit includes a pair of table clamps but does not include a panel.

Provided that the table has an overhang of 50 mm (2 inch) the desk divider clamp bracket is easily adjusted to suit tables with a desktop thickness between 6 mm up to 40 mm. The perspex or similar panel can be between 2 mm up to 8 mm thick - larger panels require a thicker material. These screen fixings also suit toughened safety glass as the clamps are lined internally with soft EVA foam to grip and protect the screen. These adjustable clamps are perfect as perspex screen fixings for dividing a desk or table.

Versatile midway clamp brackets

- No tools or drilling are required - these perspex clamps adjust easily to the thickness of your protection screen material and the depth of your tabletop
- Desk divider clamps can be removed or repositioned with ease
- Screens can be installed using these brackets across desks or to create restaurant table dividers.
- Desk divider clamp brackets are sturdy, being manufactured from steel with a durable and attractive silver-grey powder coated finish
- Midway clamps can be used together with our Edge clamps when divider panels need to run along the edge of a table as well as across it - for example to create pods or individual workstations - whether in a factory, library, office or classroom.
