Description

Wind-resistant pavement signs in silver and black

The Master Flex wind-resistant pavement sign is a heavy-duty outdoor double-sided poster holder designed to cope with most of what the British weather can throw at us. The built-in swinging spring enables the frame to bend slightly in windy conditions preventing damage. Available in a full black finish or with a contemporary silver finish base, this robust and sturdy pavement sign is an excellent choice for large outdoor spaces such as public squares, concourses, shopping villages or forecourts and its heavy base and substantial size make it perfect for large, heavy-footfall indoor spaces like shopping malls, transport hubs or train platforms. With inbuilt wheels for easy positioning and no tools required to assemble, this really is a great product!

- The base can be filled with water or sand and has a maximum fill capacity of 23 litres, making it sturdy and stable.
- Double-sided A1 size poster frame for eye-catching poster displays
- Easy opening covers with anti-glare and UV-resistant poster protectors make changing posters quick and easy
- Use a coin to open the cover (see images)
- With its poster groove and grippers, you can be sure that your posters will stay in place
- To ensure the complete protection of your posters, we recommend that you use waterproof posters.
- Includes integrated wheels and a moulded handle for easy transport and positioning
- Made from durable HDPE plastic – making it a strong, hard-wearing and long-lasting investment!

Made from durable plastic with an integrated swinging spring, wheels and handle, the Master Flex pavement wind-resistant sign is excellent value. Note that the wheeled base is for use on smooth and level surfaces – gravelled and stone pathways and areas will make the wheels lock! We recommend that you use waterproof posters as water might seep through the cover frame in heavy rain or wind conditions.
