Magnetic poster holders

The magnetic document holders featured in this page have a relatively narrow magnetic border. This is perfectly adequate for displaying a single sheet of paper at a time in a normal office environment or classroom. In cases where people could brush against the magnetic holders and potentially dislodge them - for example in a school corridor or industrial production environment - we suggest you consider a heavier duty version with a wider border (and therefore enhanced magnetic grip) but at a higher cost.. Alternatives are shown further down this page under the heading 'You may also be interested in' A4 Magnetic document holders are NOT adhesive - they only work on a magnetically receptive surface. They are intended for indoor use only.
