Description

Acrylic menu display holder

This menu display holder looks stylish mounted on the wall in hotels and restaurants. The menu display fits special A4 paper and can be used to display seasonal* menus which don't change every day - but need to be updated from time to time.

This A4 acrylic sign holder is not restricted to displaying menus - use it to display signs and promotions, in fact any kind of notice which you print in-house. The display holder is supplied with special A4 paper with a slightly translucent look, which gives your print the professional edge. Your menu or sign is inserted between two sheets of die-cut perspex, and then clamped in place by special standoff fittings which hold the sign slightly away from the wall creating a pleasing effect.

* Note: For everyday menu changes we have other wall menu holders providing faster menu change.
